

EXPLORE NATURE!

Song Sparrow
Photo Credit Tom Sheley

Columbus Audubon, with over 3,000 members, is one of the largest local Audubon chapters in the nation. Columbus Audubon offers a variety of opportunities for members and other nature enthusiasts to learn about and enjoy all wildlife, with an emphasis on birds.

REGULAR GATHERINGS

Free monthly meetings include a short program followed by a main speaker. There is also time to socialize with others who share similar interests.

FUN EXCURSIONS

Field trips are held throughout the year and many correspond to the monthly meeting topic. Watch our website for details.

Membership in Columbus Audubon is encouraged, but not required, to attend our programs.

FREE COLUMBUS AUDUBON MEETINGS

Grange Insurance Audubon Center

505 West Whittier Street
Columbus, OH 43215

There is safe & ample parking at this green certified building within Scioto Audubon Metro Park.

Columbus Audubon

2014 - 2015 Programs

7:00 p.m. Short Program: 15 Minute Nature Talk

7:15 p.m. Refreshments & Door Prizes

7:30 p.m. Main Speaker

September 23rd, 2014

An Accidental Big Year

Neil Hayward, Consultant - in 2013 he had a Big Year and saw 750 species of birds and set an ABA Big Year record

November 1st, 2014 at 4:00 pm

(Special Saturday Program)

My Life with Cranes

George Archibald, International Crane Foundation
Co-founder & Senior Conservationist

*There is a fee to attend this special program

Visit www.columbusaudubon.org for more details

November 18th, 2014

Commitment to Conservation

Rebecca Rose, Columbus Zoo Field Conservation Manager

January 27th, 2015

Ohio's Timber Rattlesnake: After Twenty-five Years of Studies, Are We Documenting an Extirpation?

Doug Wynn, Herpetologist

February 24th, 2015

Prelude to the Concert of Birdsong: Listening and Identifying the Singers

Lisa Rainsong, Composer, Naturalist and Performer

March 24th, 2015

Past, Present and Future - Learning From Success & Failure to Change the Future

Richard Crossley, Internationally-acclaimed Birder,
Photographer & Writer

April 28th, 2015

Backyard Birdwatching

Bernard Master, Retired Family Practitioner - he has toured 88 countries and has over 7200 bird species on his life list

For more details, visit www.columbusaudubon.org